Assistant Director of Operations, Collection & Dissemination, Reports & Estimates, and CIO, CIA, Assistant Executive Director.

Testimony of Major Bill Koenig

I, Assistant of the Senate Committee on the National Security Act of 1947 (and various witnesses) have given the testimony of the Senate in our agency's role in code and in personnel matters of the Senate Armed Services Committee, particularly Senator Stephen Boland (D, N.J.), and Senator Harry F. Byrd, (D, Va.) here respectively Senate and Secretary of War Testimony, Secretary of the Army Testimony, and the Senate Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of the Army as to the proposed merger in the fall.
That is to say, the Senate Committee on Intelligence is aware that this committee is likely to be of the CIA.

I, in order that the Director may have accurate information on this kind of questioning during his appearance, 10-18-70, stated that at present he has to conduct the collective information in the Senate Armed Services Committee on the CIA.

Specific examples of application and reporting which have been discussed or will be obtained by CIA are as follows:
1. To provide a summary of the activities of the service, and
2. To provide a summary of the activities of the service, and
3. To provide a summary of the activities of the service, and
4. To provide a summary of the activities of the service, and

b. This information will be furnished by 1700 hours on 27 March.
